Abstract

In every field of study, theoretical course work and the field experience play major role to shape the knowledge and skill of a student. I have selected Nestle Bangladesh Ltd. as a part of my internship program of Masters of Business Administration requirements because I was keen to work with world's largest health, nutrition and wellness company that can give me the real life exposure in one of the well-known corporate of Bangladesh- Nestle Bangladesh Limited. Methodology

Type of Research:

My study on this report is based both on primary and secondary resources as well. I have applied “Descriptive Research” to conduct the report. This includes the methods of data collection & the sources of the data or information of the research. The total number of Nestle consumers are considered as the population of the research and out of these total consumers randomly picked 100 consumers in the sample.

Sources of Data:

Primary data sources:

All the necessary information are collected by using,

- Informal discussion with honorable officials.
- Direct observation and work practically.
- Taking interview of the consumer.

Secondary data sources:

The secondary data collection source was official website, and the different files of Nestlé Bangladesh.

Limitation of the study:

In every research work there are some limitations faces when conducting different activities. Some of this notable limitations are-

- The report has been conducted within a short time frame as I have to prepare this report along with my regular office work.
- There were some limitations of access to information, which are strictly confidential for the company.
- Last but not the least; it won't be possible to obtain 100% accurate data since the survey was done on a set of sample, not the entire population.

ORGANIZATIONAL PART

Overview of Nestle Bangladesh Ltd.

In 1867 Henry Nestle, a chemist from Frankfurt who had settled in Vevey, became interested in infant feeding. To satisfy a clear need, he developed and produced a milk-based food for babies whose mothers could not nurse them. The new product soon became well-known worldwide under the name of “Farine Lactee Nestle (Nestle Milk Food)”. In order to expand into a broader category and meet more people’s needs, the Nestle Company’s first diversification occurred in 1905 when it merged with the Anglo- Swiss Condensed Milk Company (1866). Today, processing milk food is still the company’s chief activity together with the other products of Nestle family such as chocolates, instant milk-based drinks culinary products, frozen foods, ice cream, dairy products and infant foods. As a result of the company’s initiative and bold activity, it has grown into a huge organization, employing almost 230,000 people in nearly 500 factories worldwide. Nestle products are now widely distributed on all continents and sold in more than 100 countries.

Nestle in Bangladesh

Popular Nestlé brands started entering this part of the sub-continent during the British rule and the trend continued during the pre-independence days of Bangladesh. After the independence in 1971, Nestlé World Trade Corporation, the trading wing of Nestlé S.A, sent regular dispatch of Nestlé brands to Bangladesh through an array of indentures and agents and some of the brands such as NESCAFE, CERELAC, LACTOGEN, MUNCH ROLLS and MAGGI became some very common products.

In the early eighties Transcom Ltd. was appointment the sole agent of Nestle products in Bangladesh. In 1992 Nestle and Transcom Ltd. acquired the entire share capital of Vita Rich Foods Ltd. Nestle took 60 percent while Transcom Ltd. acquired 40 percent.

The name of the company was also changed at this time to Nestle Bangladesh Limited. In 1998 Nestle took over the remaining 40 percent share from Transcom Limited. Today Nestle Bangladesh Ltd. is a solid based enterprise.

Chapter-6

FINDINGS, RECOMMENDATION AND CONCLUSION

Findings

- 1. Expansion of competitor's product line: Day by day competitors of Nestle are coming to the market with different sizes, flavors and packages. In modern trade, modern trader wants to keep visible of all company's entire SKU product on their category shelf. To give facing all SKUs of other products, sometimes Nestle did not get facing more than one of all SKUs of that category and face problem to increase visibility.
- 2. Product unavailability at DC (Distribution Center): Sometimes products were not available at DC of Nestle, so that they did not deliver products to modern trade as per order and proper time. Because of out of stock products at trades, Nestle lose its sales.
- 3. Raising competitor's promotional activity: Recently Nestle competitors are becoming more active with different promotional activities in modern trade. They are renting a Gondola, keeping a promoter, dangler etc. to attract more customers.
- 4. Presence of gray product in modern trade: In modern trade, many people have the capability to buy exported product and traders are responsible for grabbing the market by the Gray products. Sometimes it creates problem for Nestle distributor to sell their products.
- 5. Concern on CP less than TP: Nestle modern trade distributors execute different agreement like visibility drive, joint business plan but did not get any trade promotion to the traders. They only provide consumer promotion to delight the customers and to compete with the competitors in modern trade.

6. Payment collection problem: Some modern traders take product from Nestle distributor with credit, but did not able to pay in proper time. Someone misuse the credit facility and at last Nestle distributors have to stop the delivery of products to that trades.
7. Less presence of Munch and Shad e magic: Still now Munch Rollz is not so popular than the other chocolates at modern trade though it is extremely cheap and according to consumers, taste good, people still prefer Kitkat even though it's priced higher. And most of the people don't know about the use of Shad e magic.

Recommendation

1. Expansion of product line: The consumers are always looking for something different. The main competition Nestlé Bangladesh is facing in modern trade, in terms of Culinary and Breakfast cereals. Nestle can introduce cup noodles with reasonable price which is popular in modern trade. Also can bring different flavor of Noodles, soups and breakfast cereals to compete with competitors.
2. Product availability: Nestle should make all SKUs of product available at DC always, so that they can deliver products to the trade or trader's warehouse as per order and make available and visible in the trades. It also increase the customer satisfaction as well as traders demand.
3. More promotional activity: As market is so competitive, Nestle should offer their best and unique promotion to the consumer for a specific period of time. In this case they can take promoters, who will be responsible to promote Nestle products as well as will be taken more customer feedback.

4. Minimize the impact of Gray market: To handle the Gray market, Nestle should convince the traders so that they can assist the customers to purchase the local one. Here, Nestle can give them trade promotions, incentives, can ensure proper & timely delivery and should maintain a good relationship with the traders to increase sales volume.

5. Campaign about munch & visibility of Shad e magic: Since MUNCH's presence is less than the other chocolates in Modern trade, Nestle can make a campaign on MUNCH in different schools. Besides that many consumers are still unaware about the use & taste of Shad e Magic, it needs to be placed in a visible area in modern trade and should advertise more on Television through different Cooking Program.
